

Social, Cultural and Ideological Transfers in the History of Frontier Regions of North and Northwestern Bohemia and their Role for its Development and Tenability

The project aims to apply long term experience and knowledge obtained by PF UJEP in the area of social, cultural and idea transfers in the border region of north-western and northern Bohemia. The output is to be in a form accessible to wide public which still seeks its place in many places of the region. Consciousness of regional history is to be promoted and developed thus strengthening the ties of inhabitants to their region. The output is to be given the form of web portal which will demonstrate themigration processes on selected key factors. Dialogue of various opinions will be supported by the interdisciplinary character of the method and the content. A virtual archive and virtual study space are going to be established to document, collect and study objects and documents the region's memory. Peer-reviewed collective monographs are to be published together with English and German mutations. Shorter articles will be posted to peer-reviewed journals. Digital versions of sources documenting the region will be made accessible in PDF format on the portal. The culmination of the project will be an exhibition, catalog and program for schools in the region, leaning on a methodology for teachers.
